

Emeritus Professor Efstratios (Stratis) Patsouris, MD

Emeritus Professor of Pathology, School of Health Sciences, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens

Efstratios Patsouris is Emeritus Professor of Pathology, Director and President of the Board of the University Mental Health, Neurosciences and Precision Medicine Research Institute “Costas Stefanis” (UMHRI), University of Athens (2017-up to now). He received his MD degree in 1975 from University of Athens and continued his training in Internal Medicine (1976-1978) in Athens Naval Hospital in Athens, in Neurology-Psychiatry in Aeginition University Hospital in Athens (specialty of Psychiatry, 1982), in Pathology in the Dept. of Pathology, Medical School, University of Athens (specialty of Pathology, 1986). He completed his training in Hematopathology in the Institute of Pathology in Kiel (Germany, Dir. Prof. K. Lennert, 1983-1986) and in Neuropathology, University of Munich and Hamburg (specialty of Neuropathology, Germany, 1995).

Professor Patsouris as Chairman of the First Department of Pathology, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (2003-2018), the largest Pathology Department of Greece, received 40.000 cases per year from 30 different hospitals of the country and 9.000 cases from Laikon University Hospital, Athens and has the largest Unit of Molecular Pathology in Greece.

Professor Patsouris received 7 international scholarships and 15 awards for best research project in International and Hellenic Congresses. He has received as project leader 16 competitive Greek and 3 European research grants, and he has been actively involved in 7 European funded projects (European cooperation consortiums). He has been a member of international research groups and consultant of the European Union in his areas of expertise (prion disease, encephalopathies). He represented Greece in 32 international scientific meetings and 12 organising and managing meetings regarding the area of Pathology. He is a member and president of many Greek and international scientific consultant committees and 17 international and Greek scientific organisations. For 6 years he was the president of the Greek Organisation of Neuropathology, he was also a member and later president of the district scientific board of biosciences, and of the National Board of Research and Technology of the ministry of education (2009, 20011-2012).

He has published 527 articles in different international journals (peer-reviewed publications) mainly in the areas of Pathology of Neoplastic Diseases, of Hematopathology and Neuropathology. The total number of citations is 11.471 and the H-index is 58.

Professor Patsouris was vice President of the Medical School of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (2011-2013), Dean of the School of Health Sciences, University of Athens (2014-2018), Director and President of the Board of the University Mental Health, Neurosciences and Precision Medicine Research Institute “Costas Stefanis” (UMHRI), University of Athens (2017-up to now) and Emeritus Professor of the School of Health Sciences, University of Athens since 2019.